It is the night of Maro's party, a celebration of his anniversary with the Estate, home to a secret community of sleepless tenants. A new arrival, Liv, spooked by a phone call, panics and runs. As she exits, she collides with a stranger, Adam, and everything changes. Liv believes she has found refuge, but the Estate is loath to let its guests leave. Liv soon suspects that escape is now impossible, not just from the past but from the building itself. The Nocturnals is a noir mystery, daring and visceral, where nothing is what it seems.
